Dear Della,

Just wanted to write and let you know that Max is doing great! He's out of the 08/04 litter of AJ's.

I got him for a service dog and I have been truly amazed with him since we got him.

He was house trained at 9 weeks. He learns everything so quickly and then looks at me as if to say, "Now what?"

I started with the training from the day I got him. He is already assisting me everywhere I go. He is doing a great job for me. He also picks up things for me. He gives me forward mobility and he helps me up when I need it. I'd say that his most important job is all the love and companionship he gives both me and my husband.

I don't have a current picture of him but I do have one at 6 months. I'm afraid it doesn't do him justice but thought you might like to see it. He's about 70 pounds now at 8 months.

Thanks again for everything. Best Wishes,

Carol Pierson

Hello Della,

I just wanted to update you on Max. He's from A.J.'s August 04 litter. I couldn't be happier with him. He just turned a year old and he is 76 pounds and helping me everywhere I go. He is my 24 hour a day companion. I couldn't ask for a better service dog. It's amazing how well he's trained.

I was in Walmart today and dropped a tub of sour cream on the floor at the check out. Everyone was amazed when he quietly picked it up and gave it to me. A good boy is all he expects in return. My husband and I refer to him as our kid with fur.

He attracts so much attention in public. First I hear how beautiful he is. And then "Wow" I didn't know there were poodles that big!

Hope you and yours are well. Thanks again, Carol Pierson
